Why volunteer at Blood Cancer UK

We started because of Susan; we'll get there because of you.

Blood Cancer UK was started by one family who lost their daughter, Susan, to blood cancer, and that history and sense of family continues to shape who we are today. When you join Blood Cancer UK, you don't just become a volunteer – you become part of a collaborative community dedicated to funding research into beating blood cancer that includes some of the most inspiring people you'll ever meet.

And we're not that far away from beating blood cancer. We're confident we can do it within the next generation, and this makes us hugely ambitious and gives us a sense of real urgency. It also means we're changing quickly as an organisation as we constantly challenge ourselves and strive to become more and more effective.

Blood Cancer UK offers the chance to volunteer alongside, and support people affected by blood cancer, while providing opportunities to develop new skills, take on exciting challenges, and make a meaningful impact.

What we do

We fund world-class research; provide information and support to patients and their loved ones; and raise awareness of blood cancer. Since 1960 we have invested more than £500 million in blood cancer research in the UK. Where we've invested, survival rates and quality of life have improved.

You can read more about what we do on our website here: About Blood Cancer UK

Blood Cancer UK is such a good place to volunteer. I'm learning every day and feel like I'm adding value. I know my work is directly tied to the mission of the charity: to beat blood cancer."

Jude, Blood Cancer UK Ambassador

About the role

Every year, over 40,000 people in the UK are diagnosed with blood cancer. Research is crucial for better treatments, improved care, and, ultimately, a cure—and our Community Groups play a vital role in making this happen.

We're expanding our Community Groups across the UK, reaching more people and strengthening support for those affected by blood cancer. As a Community Group Treasurer, you don't need to be an accountant—just comfortable managing funds and working with a team. You'll be part of a passionate group helping raise funds, increase awareness, and bring people together in your local community.

Key Activities

As a Community Group Treasurer, you'll be responsible for:

- Keep track of funds raised and remit to Blood Cancer UK in a timely manner.
- Share simple updates with the group on fundraising progress.
- Help ensure donations make the biggest impact.
- Work with the Group Lead and Secretary to support events and activities.

How much time will you need to give?

This role is completely flexible—give as much or as little time as you can. Typically, it may involve a few hours a month.

Location of the role

This role will support your local blood cancer community group, wherever you feel you can make the most impact.

"To anyone who is interested in volunteering for Blood Cancer UK, I would say it will be THE best thing you will ever do. Not only will you feel pride and achieve amazing things in helping such a worthwhile cause raising funds and awareness, but you will become part of the most amazing, supportive family ever".

Gayle, Group Lead, Manchester Community Group

About you – what skills, experience and qualities will you need for the role?

We welcome volunteers from all backgrounds! You might be a great fit if you are:

- Organised and detail-focused – Comfortable keeping track of finances and maintaining simple records.
- Reliable and responsible – Happy to manage funds with care and transparency.
- A team player – Enjoy working with others to achieve shared goals and offer support.
- Friendly and approachable – Feel comfortable sharing updates and representing Blood Cancer UK in your community.
- Passionate about making a difference – Want to help improve the lives of those affected by blood cancer.

How you will make a difference

The funds you raise will help us invest in research to:

- Develop cures for those with blood cancer, now and in the future.
- Improve treatment and care for those living with blood cancer today.
- Prevent blood cancer from developing in the first place.

Fundraising in your community is a great way to reach people and raise important funds. Every penny you collect has a significant impact:

- £150 could fund a researcher to analyse 120 blood cell samples, potentially leading to a breakthrough.
- £210 could help send expert patient information to all those diagnosed with blood cancer today.
- £500 could fund a research nurse for three days, supporting patients during their treatment.

We are available between 9am – 5pm, Monday – Friday.

Our volunteers come from all walks of life, bringing a wide range of skills, experiences, and personal connections to blood cancer from across the UK.

We want everyone involved with us to feel respected, supported, safe, and able to give their best, no matter their background or identity.

We understand that the way we work impacts who can join us and how they experience being part of Blood Cancer UK. That's why we're committed to being equitable and inclusive, ensuring everyone feels welcome and supported throughout their journey with us.

To achieve this, we know we must keep reflecting on and improving how we work. We're always open to feedback on how we can better live out our values.
